Webinar on
“Representation of Women in Film and Television: Trends and Changes”

ABOUT RAMA DEVI WOMEN'S UNIVERSITY:

Rama Devi Women's University, the first and only Women's University of Odisha was established on 30.05.2015. RDWU attracts students from West Bengal, Chattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha, offering 21 Undergraduate, 19 Postgraduate and Ph.D. programs in 13 subjects, largely focusing on inclusive development of women. It has 48 affiliated colleges statewide.

MAA RAMA DEVI CHAIR:

Maa Rama Devi Chair, established in Rama Devi Women's University in May 2023, is dedicated to advancing research in humanities and social sciences with focus on promoting sustainable development of women in Odisha. The Chair's vision is to foster multi-disciplinary research initiatives, promoting collaborative studies across various domains as well as conducting analytical and comparative research on socio-cultural issues impacting women.

THEME:

The portrayal of women in film and television has long been a subject of scrutiny and evolution. This webinar delves into the trends and changes in the representation of women in these mediums, exploring the journey from stereotypical roles to nuanced and empowering characters. Through a critical lens, we examine the historical context, current landscape and future prospects of female representation. We will assess and advocate for more diverse and authentic portrayals of women in Film and Television. We will discuss on the complexities of gender representation and envision a more inclusive cinematic future.

WEBINAR DETAILS:

The webinar will take place on 1st May, 2024 at 12:00 noon IST. Google Meet link:
