A STUDY REPORT ON PAPANASINI SIVA TEMPLE A KALINGA STYLE ARCHITECTURAL TEMPLE MADE OF SANDSTONE

5 JUNE 2022

The temple is surrounded by Banasvara Siva temple in east, Maitresvara temple in south and the Papanasini compound wall in north and west. The temple is facing towards south. Nearby the famous Lingaraj temple. The huge pond in the compound precinct having step wells in all sides with greenish azure waters is a sight to behold. It's believed a dip in this pond relieves one of his sins; although the pond is much polluted, periodically it gets cleaned. The temple complex is open from sunrise till sunset and is easily accessible. The temple has a square vimana (chariot), that measures 2.50 square metres.

Special features of the temple is there is only the vimana (chariot), porch is missing Papanasini Siva Temple is an abandoned Hindu temple located in Bhubaneswar, Odisha. Papanasini Siva temple is Kalinga style architectural temple made of sandstone, built around 14th century & Located at Badheibanka Chowk, Old Town, Bhubaneswar
