

Report on discussion of traditional clothing of Odisha and Maharashtra organised under "Ek Bharat Shrestha Bharat" programme between RD Women's University and SNT Women's University

Rama Devi Women's University is paired with SNT Women's University of Mumbai under the "Ek Bharat Shrestha Bharat" mission to provide cultural exchange and other activities between the Universities of both the states. The first event under this initiative was a discussion on Traditional clothing of both Maharashtra and Odisha among the students of both Universities. This event was organised over Skype on 23.12.2019 at the respective Universities. The following students of both U.G. and P.G. participated in the event.

Swikruti Mishra, Akankhya Mohapatra, Srusti Mishra, Bidisha priyadarshini, Diptimayee Das and Swarnapriya Mohapatra.

They presented traditional Odisha sarees like Bomkai, Pasapalli, Bandha Saree, Odishi classical attire and Traditional Santali attire. They also presented traditional Santali jewellery. The students of SNT presented traditional Maharashtrian attires like Kaastha saree, Paithini Saree and Kohlapuri Bridal Saree along with traditional Maharashtrian Jewellery. The P.G. Sociology students of SNT University gave a presentation of tribal culture of Maharashtra and life style of tribals in Maharashtra state. The event ended with a discussion session among the students of both Universities.

RDWU students with P.G. Council Chairman

RDWU Students interacting with SNDT students

RDWU students through skype at SNDT

Interaction session on traditional Odisha clothing at SNDT

Prof. Asha Patil with SNDT students in Traditional Maharashtrian attire

P.G. Sociology students of SNDT University discussing tribal culture of Maharashtra