Organization-wide awareness and undertakings on policies with zero tolerance

University believes and follows zero tolerance policy for any kind of harassment meted out to students. Therefore, the University has been regularly organising programs to raise awareness and address student grievances related to sexual harassment, ragging, etc. The goal of such programs is to create a safe and respectful environment for all the students while promoting a zero-tolerance approach towards such incidents. It also attempts to ensure that all the stakeholders of the university are aware of the policies related to sexual harassment and ragging, create a culture of mutual respect, develop understanding and sensitivity towards these issues and establish an efficient grievance redressal mechanism that prioritizes the well-being of the students.

University has successfully undertaken comprehensive awareness campaigns and established effective mechanisms for the redressal of grievances. Some of the steps taken by the University to ensure that the campus is free of such incidents are: mandatory undertaking by the students and their guardian on the anti-ragging at the time of admission in the University and the hostel (if applicable), awareness program on the induction/ orientation program, active online portals to lodge complains, if any, etc. University has also set up many committees to strictly implement the programs and suggest preventive measures to deter the occurrence of such incidences in the future. Posters of anti-ragging, no to harassment, etc. are pasted on the walls of University and also the hostel. Some of the photographs and the evidences of such programs are given below:
