

BUSINESS TINKERING CLUB

RAMA DEVI WOMEN'S UNIVERSITY

SKILL TRAINING PROGRAMME

Venue: Old Auditorium, RDWU

Date: 12 October 2023 (11:30 AM-1:30 PM)

A skill training program was conducted by the Skill Development Committee, Rama Devi Women's University, in association with the Business Tinkering Club in the Old Auditorium on 12 October 2023. The skill training program was imparted by the National Association of Software and Service Companies (NASSCOM), a leading non-governmental trade association and advocacy group that primarily serves the Indian technology industry. The Programme was attended by more than 300 students.

This initiative aimed to bridge the gap between academic knowledge and real-world application by providing students with hands-on training and specialized skills in their respective fields.

It focused on enhancing both technical expertise and soft skills crucial for professional success. The program duration spanned for two hours, from 11:30 AM to 1:30 PM.

Programme Outcome:

The skill training program played a pivotal role in empowering students with practical skills essential for their professional journey. The initiative's success in enhancing technical competencies and soft skills underscores the university's dedication to holistic education, preparing students to excel in their chosen careers. Continued efforts in refining and expanding such programs will undoubtedly contribute to producing industry-ready professionals.
